William Morton Osborne, 93, died Tuesday, December 7, 2010. He was born January 23, 1917 in the Bronx, NY to Alex and Ethel Osborne. He was the brother of Richard Osborne, Anita Phillipson, and Gladys Linzer and was predeceased by his beloved wife of 58 years, Hertha Osborne. He was father of Lawrence Osborne

(wife Diane), Barrie Osborne (wife Carol) and Wendy (Osborne) Phelps and was grandfather to Aaron Osborne, Jennifer Phelps-Montgomery, Zachary Phelps and Danielle Osborne and great-grandfather of five as well as a beloved uncle, cousin, and friend to many.

Willy was an award-winning jeweler and owner of Alex Osborne & Co. in business from 1933. He served in WWII as a U.S. Army Air Corps Sgt. and proudly served his country. After retiring Willy earned a BFA from Suny Purchase. As a life-long fine artist many of his works hang in homes across the country. His figure skating sculptures are prized by their owners. His Firefighter statue on the Boston Post Road in Darien CT. is enjoyed by the public.

A writer, an artist, a musician, a philosopher and a scholar, Willy called himself alternately a "Starving Artist", a "Nikolevsky Soldat", and an "angel".

He enriched the lives of all who knew him, and will be missed by all. He was, as he himself pointed out, the sweetest guy in the world and attributed his success to dumb luck.
